Program Philosophy

Our program philosophy is simple, “Invest now, benefit later.” We believe that high quality early childhood care, education and family services pays off in a myriad of benefits to children, their families and society. Children learn best when fully involved and self-directed in their learning. This child-centered philosophy supports our belief that children are unique individuals who learn at different rates and in diverse ways. It is our responsibility to allow each child the opportunity to gain experience and develop to his/her fullest potential in the most nurturing environment possible. In addition, we believe parents are an integral part of the child’s learning process. Both teachers and parents work together to plan and facilitate the educational goals for the child. Our goal is to bring about a greater degree of social competence in children of low-income families. Social competence relates to the child’s everyday effectiveness in dealing with both the present environment and later responsibilities in school and in life. It considers the interrelatedness of cognitive and intellectual development, physical and mental health and nutritional needs.
